

Rachel Barrett-Dolcine, MPA, CPM

Chief Executive Officer, Compass Consulting and Training Solutions, LLC

www.compasscts.com

Rachel J. Barrett-Dolcine, CEO of Compass Consulting and Training Solutions is an innovative strategist with extensive experience in training & development, curriculum development, nonprofit management and consulting for small business and Nonprofit start-ups. Through its Community Giving Back Program, Compass facilitates free training classes and workshops for nonprofit and community organizations that are on a limited budget.

Rachel is the facilitator and coach for Compass' Small Business Institute, a 10 month group coaching & training program for new entrepreneurs. She also hosts an annual Christian Women Business Owners Summit, monthly ASK ME HOW segments & various business and personal development webinars.

Rachel received her Bachelor of Arts, cum laude, in Deviant Behavior and Social Control from John Jay College of Criminal Justice; a Master of Public Administration from the University of Baltimore; is a graduate of the Associated Black Charities (ABC) Board Pipeline Leadership Program and the prestigious Maryland Certified Public Manager Program- Nonprofit Track at the University of Baltimore. In February 2015, Rachel was named one of Maryland's Top 100 Women.

Rachel is an Adjunct Faculty member at two local community colleges, a Certified CPR/First Aid Train the Trainer Instructor, an approved Maryland State Department of Education (MSDE) Office of Childcare (OCC) Core of Knowledge and Childcare Certification Trainer.

Rachel sits on two nonprofit boards and is the Founder of the Joseph & Vera Douglas Family Foundation, an organization that works with underserved communities in Jamaica to provide health & literacy resources and training for women who want to start their own businesses.